I WILL DESIGN

Who is IWILLDESIGN?

IWILLDESIGN is a designer who likes to explore multiple ways of designing. He likes to design posters and artwork in Photoshop, branding and drawings in Illustrator, or color-correcting photos in Lightroom.

He strives for a clean yet playful design that fits the project's needs. When working on a project, he likes to iterate on ideas a lot and to keep tweaking until it's just right.

He likes to work in a darker, more mystical style when making Photoshop composites, but he also likes to incorporate playful and colorful elements.

His mission is to help his clients stand out in a crowded market by making captivating and effective designs.

01

Logo and name

Name

The name of the brand is IWILLDESIGN, which comes from the statement “I will design”, and reflects his commitment to the design process. It also comes from his full name, William. This adds a highly personal touch to the brand.

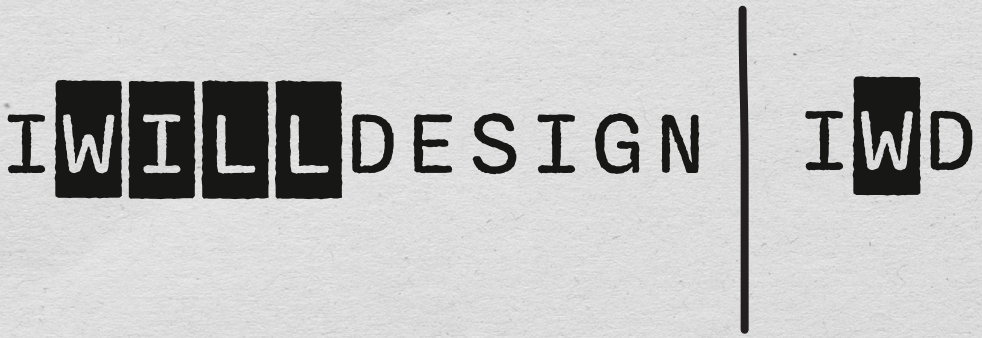
IWILLDESIGN

Logo

The logo is in a font called NITTI Typewriter. This font was chosen to give the logo a rustic and classical element that plays into the mystical aspect that this brand wants to evoke. The word "WILL" is highlighted both as a statement and as a reference to his full name: William.

Alternate configurations

In certain situations the default stacked configuration isn’t the best choice. so that’s why the logo also exists in a horizontal configuration and as an icon. These versions should only be used in situations where the stacked logo can’t be used.



02

Values and Brand Position

Values and Brand Position

IWILLDESIGN is guided by three core values: "Mystical," "Exciting," and "Impulsive." Let's delve into why these values hold such significance.

Mystical: IWD seeks to infuse a touch of mysticism into their work, creating an intriguing and captivating element. By evoking a sense of mystery, his designs leave a lasting impression and raise curiosity.

Exciting: IWD approaches each project with boundless enthusiasm, constantly exploring new techniques and embracing dynamic elements. Their goal is to craft designs that inspire positive emotions and ignite a sense of excitement.

Impulsive: IWD thrives on pushing boundaries and embracing new ideas. By asking the question "What if?" during the creative process, they strive to deliver fresh and interesting results, fostering innovation and staying true to their impulsive nature.

IWILLDESIGN stands for fun design that fits with the theme of the subject and represents it accurately. IWD tries to provoke curiosity and authenticity in his work.

Mission and Services

His Mission

IWILLDESIGN is a designer who likes to learn and create in multiple aspects of design. He likes to create brand identities, artwork, and posters in Photoshop, as well as experiment with video editing. He is interested in history and likes to be authentic in his work.

He strives for clean designs that fit the project’s needs. He prefers to work in a clean yet playful style that maintains the brand's identity.
He likes to keep tweaking and iterating on a piece until it’s just right.
His preferred style for Photoshop composites and video edits is similar, but he also enjoys incorporating dark and mystical elements alongside playful and colourful elements. His mission is to help clients stand out in a crowded market by creating designs that are both captivating and effective.

His Services

He offers work like custom Photoshop composites, such as posters, branding and logo desi and UI/UX design.

On the Photoshop side he creates stunning compositions by blending various images to create a cohesive image. He likes to make posters or artistic projects with the goal to deliver a stunning and captivating final image.

He also does branding and logo design. He understands that a brand identity is an important part of a person or company. This is why he works closely with the clients to make sure their business is accurately represented. Through careful consideration of color, typography and other visual elements, he creates brand identities that leave a lasting impression.

And lastly he also does UI/UX design. He focuses on creating easy to navigate user interfaces that convey the needed information and fit with the company's branding. By applying user-centered design principles he makes sure the same experience can be had across different digital platforms.

Brand Essence and Identity

Brand Essence

IWILLDESIGN is passionate about crafting designs that embody a unique style, customized for each client. When it comes to posters and flyers, he leans towards visually interesting approaches, incorporating photos as primary background elements instead of relying heavily on typography or vector graphics. His goal is to create designs that look professional while still being distinct, steering away from a corporate look. He also embraces intentional imperfections, such as subtle grain effects, to add character and depth to his work.

Furthermore, he takes pride in infusing his personal style into projects while staying true to his clients' values and desired aesthetics. By seamlessly integrating his unique flair, he ensures that his work maintains a cohesive visual identity that enhances the essence of his brand.

Brand voice

Brand Voice

The brand voice for IWILLDESIGN strikes the a balance between expertise and approachability, ensuring that he communicates clearly and excited about the designs he made. When describing his artwork and creations, he likes to dive into the details, providing you with short but comprehensive explanations that explain the process and show the thought and effort behind each project. He believes that by sharing his passion and work, he can connect with you on a deeper level, making him a trustable source of design work.

His brand personality reflects a professional mindset with a playful edge. He takes his work seriously by delivering high-quality design solutions that meet the clients' wishes. But he also likes to inject fun and creativity into everything he does.

The ultimate goal is to become a trusted person in the design industry. He wants to be able to fulfil people's visions in design that allign with his own interests and established style.

In our communications, he uses a laid-back professional tone, creating a relaxed and friendly atmosphere. He loves dropping subtle teasers, like a "soon™", to build excitement around his next projects. This laid-back tone also means he can use a more serious tone that reflects the business enviroment the typewriter was used in a lot in a kind of jokey way.

Typography

Typography

The typeface TT2020 has been chosen to represent IWILLDESIGN because it was designed to be as accurate as possible to how real typewriters look and display text. It was decided to use the Base font (regular) as the body text. Styles E and B are used for the different headers. A fun addition of these fonts is that they are made to display sightly different letters each time to be more accurate to a real typewriter.
The base style doesn't do this sadly and a style that does do this because they are either too thick or too thin to be a regular font for long texts. The size and weight of body text and headers were chosen for web. This brandbooks text follows a slightly smaller size because this will be printed on A5. The 12px used in the book is also slightly more accurate to a real typewriter. This branding will primarily be used digitally so there's no need to develop a full typescale for print.

Introducing Fictum Textus

Fictum Textus, also known as "Imaginary Text", is a placeholder content generator designed to assist in the development and design of various projects. Similar to the classic Lorem Ipsum, Fictum Textus provides a seamless solution for creating temporary text for layouts, prototypes, and visual demonstrations.

With Fictum Textus, designers and developers can effortlessly generate placeholder content that mimics the structure and length of real text. It allows for accurate representation of text within a design, providing a realistic preview of how the final product will look and feel once populated with actual content.

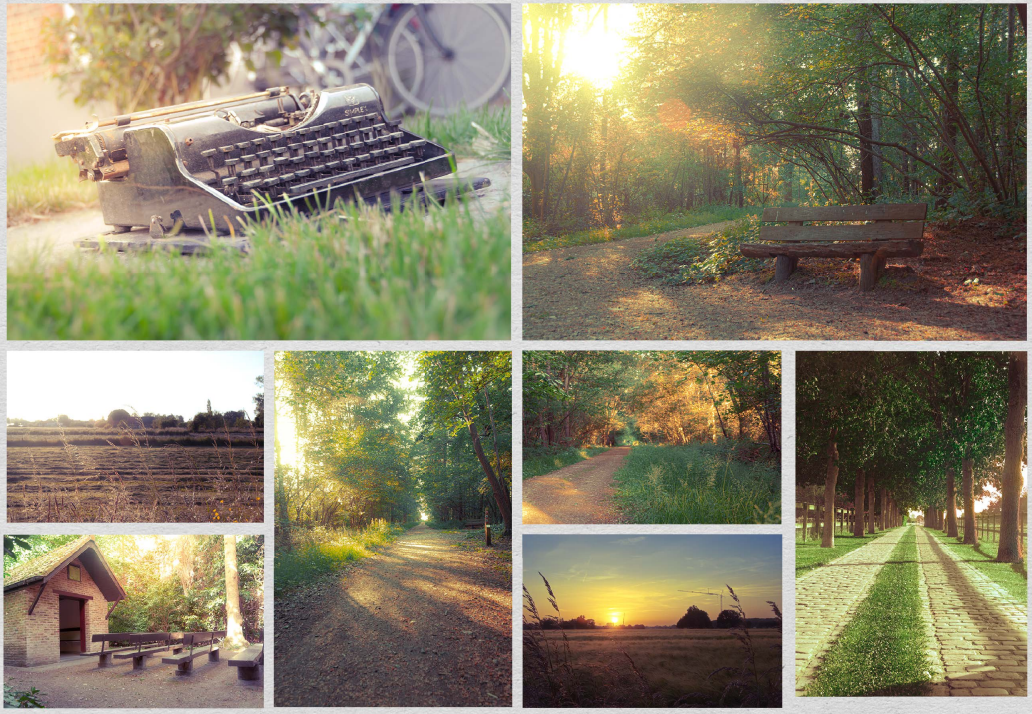
Photography And Images

Photography

The photos used for IWILLDESIGN are very specific. Because IWD wants to have a rustic and mystical look, all photos used should have a natural setting out in the fields or in the woods, ideally taken during the hour of sunset. Stock images aren't allowed to be used; all photos have to be taken by yourself. The color grading of the images is also important; the photos are graded to the color palette of IWD. Examples of these images can be found throughout the brand book.



Colour Grading

The photos have to be graded to the color palette. Adjusting the lighting depends on the image itself, but the base grading should include IWD Beige in the highlights, IWD Yellow in the midtones, and IWD Purple in the shadows. The grading should also have a slight haze to evoke a lush autumnal atmosphere with a strong mystical vibe.

Patterns And Textures

Patterns

When making a pattern the icon should be used in a grid with the rows being offset. The rules of no other colours than off-black or off-white on the background or logo also apply here

Textures

Textures used in relation to the brand should be rough paper textures for background elements. When printing and rough paper is an option the texture isn’t needed.
